Dear Parents and Carers,

Today, I'm going to be...

Barnardo's believe in supporting every child to fulfil their future dreams. Hat Day is all about those dreams – if you could be anyone you wanted, who would you be? On February 10, children will have the chance to be that person.

Maybe it's a doctor, or a teacher, or a racing driver. Maybe it's a wizard, an astronaut, a dinosaur? The main thing is to use your imagination and have a great time – so get your thinking caps on!

There's a big idea behind the fun, too. New Barnardo's research has found 88 per cent of young people in Britain today say they 'lack confidence and doubt they will succeed in life'. Hat Day will show each and every child who takes part that we all have a future to get excited about, that there's nothing stopping anyone from getting out there and becoming the person they really want to be.
