

NOT NOW, BERNARD

David McKee

Here are some activities you could try at home now that you have listened to the story.

Can you draw some pictures to show what might happen when the monster wakes up the next day?

Ask your grown-ups if you can make your own monster puppet using an old sock?

If you read the story twice how many times would you say the words Not Now, Bernard?

Can you create a WANTED poster for the monster?

Think of some sound effects for the story. Retell the story putting your sounds in the right place.
