

Geography - WWF

Instructions for parents

Although Earth Hour has already passed the activities attached to the WWF website are lovely. The children always find learning about the world fascinating and many feel strongly about looking after our planet. The information in the school presentation is extremely interesting and therefore would still be worth a look at! Once your child has picked an activity to do for WWF they can submit it on the website and earn a certificate!

Link is here - <https://www.wwf.org.uk/get-involved/schools/earth-hour-schools/thank-you#resources>

We can't wait to see pictures of what you get up to!

Enjoy!

P.S Maybe you could even create your own Earth Hour with your family and turn off all the switches/plugs!!!